MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

The Arrest of Mr. McKinney a Case of This Kind—Officers Not to Blame.

Deputy Marshal J. O. Severns returned from Pittsburg yesterday, where he had been with Rev. G. R. McKinney. He was seen by a LEADER reporter and stated that there were a number of misstatements in the account of the arrest published in the Pittsburg papers.

Some time ago the United States attorney received instructions from the attorney general to cause the arrest of Mr. McKinney for impersonating one Wood, a pension examiner.

Assistant Attorney Stone swore out the warrant, which Chief Deputy Hale sent Deputy Severns to serve and take the accused to Pittsburg. Mr. Severns provided the best accommodations for his companion on the trip, and when it was learned the wrong man was taken he gave Mr. McKinney $10.50 to aid him in coming home.

It was a clear case of mistaken identity, for which no one can be held accountable, especially the Oklahoma officer, who while doing his simple duty in following instructions, felt the man he had was wholly innocent and extended every courtesy possible. And all who know Joe Severns are sure he would do this.

A Bad Duckman.

Ed Sigler was yesterday arrested for assaulting Jim Stumpf with a corn knife, on the latter's farm northeast of the city. He will be tried Monday for the offense. Sigler some time ago got drunk and stole $5 from his partner Willis in the police court. Going home the other day, he and Willis got into a fight in which Willis licked the stuffing out of him. He had Willis arrested and brought before Maharra's court and fined $2. Willis only regrets that he did not lick him harder than he did.

Nix, Mrs. Johnston, Miss Zu Witter, Mr. George Anos Jasper and Mrs. Ramsy Smithson, will delight all who attend with the choicest music. The union services will be at Congregational church Rev. Boggess preaching the sermon.

Jacks, of Montgomery City, Mo., an experienced newspaper man and for many years secretary of the Missouri Press association, and the chief clerk of the lower house of the last Missouri legislature has purchased a plant and shipped it to Perry, where he intends to establish a Democratic daily and weekly newspaper. Mr. Jacks' outfit includes power presses and a complete newspaper office and with his facilities he will be able to print a first class newspaper.

JOEL GOODWIN DEAD.

Remains of a Texas Sheriff With a Shooting Record.

Sheriff H. J. Spradley of Noacodoches, Texas, shot and instantly killed Joel Goodwin of Loganport, La., at that place the other morning. Had blood had been between them ever since Goodwin killed Collins two years ago, and Spradley helped try to catch him with dogs. Spradley passed up by there and met Deputy Sheriff G. O. Moore of Loganport, who recently had a difficulty with Goodwin.

When the train returned from the train Goodwin and his wife and 12-year-old son, armed with a Winchester, pistol and shot, were waiting at the depot and the people around were in dread. A few excited words were heard, such as "Look out!" and "Come out!" and at once several shots were fired. Spradley killed Goodwin's face and neck full of buckshot from the window of the baggage car. Young Goodwin fired two loads of bullets into the window of the car and slightly wounded agent Milligan in the arm, but missed Spradley. Mrs. Goodwin tried to enter the car with a pistol in her hand. Spradley and G. O. Moore were arrested. This makes the fourth man Spradley has killed. Goodwin had killed more.

Mysterious Tragedy on a Lake.

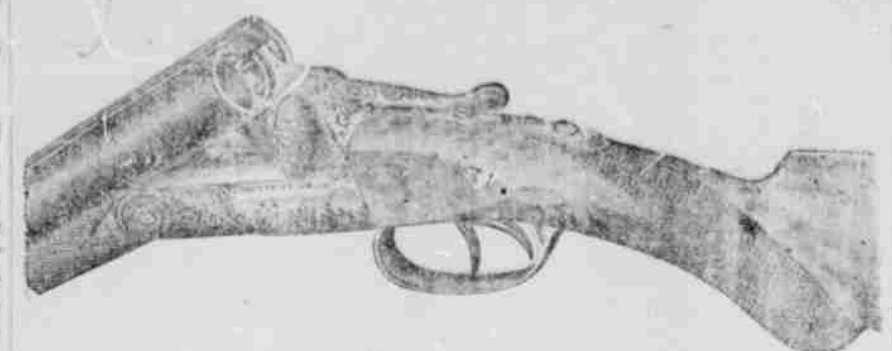

At Seattle, Wash., the other afternoon, the steamer Astoria, while on Lake Washington, was halted by a young woman in a rowboat. When the boat approached it was seen that the girl, aged about nineteen, was being either assaulted or beaten by a young man of 27, who was also in the boat. When the boat approached the young man released her. She stood up and said: "It's all right. I guess he will take me ashore now." The steamer thereupon proceeded. The boatman-keeper put out later and finally found the boat. The man was alone in the stern. When aware of the other boat he deliberately dived into the lake. He did not appear again. The woman, too, had disappeared. Their names have not been
